

Index Copernicus Value

Indexed in Index Copernicus:
ICV 5,74

MNISW 2 pkt
prenumerata:
5 pkt edukacyjnych

ResearchGate

Current issue

Volume 7, 2011 Joint Issue 3-4

Archival Issues

Search

Newsletter

Authors Pathway

Conferences

Subscription

>> Home

Arthroscopy and Joint Surgery is a peer-reviewed medical journal featuring original scientific articles based on original research as well as review and opinion articles and case studies concerned with diseases and injuries of joints the locomotor apparatus.

The subject matter of the articles published in AJS cover a wide spectrum of issues connected with orthopedics, traumatology, and arthroscopic treatment of rehabilitation for patients with orthopedic and traumatological disorders. The Editorial Board includes specialists from many departments, countries around the world, representing various specialties, not only orthopedics and traumatology, but also rehabilitation in related medical fields, guaranteeing the high scientific level of the published articles.

AJS is published four times a year. The editors accept articles in Polish and in English either or Polish or English, with summaries and key words in both languages. At the request of the first author the editors may arrange for a qualified translator at the expense of the first author (at competitive page rates).