The Goal

The International Gynecologic Cancer Society (IGCS) is a not for profit independent organization contributing to the prevention, treatment and study of gynecologic cancer, as well as improvement in the quality of life among women suffering from gynecologic cancer throughout the world.

IGCS strives for global representation, reflecting the diverse cultural, economic, and geographic impact of gynecologic cancer.

IGCS also supports the Gynecologic Cancer InterGroup (GCIG), enhancing the global impact of clinical trials in women with gynecologic cancer.

The International Journal of Gynecological Cancer is the official journal of the International Gynecologic Cancer Society (IGCS) and the European Society of Gynaecological Oncology (ESGO).
